Friday, September 29, 8 pm: “F. Zawrel” (2012)

Puppeteer Nikolaus Habjan’s award-winning play chronicles F. Zawrel’s fight for justice. As a young boy, Friedrich Zawrel is deemed genetically and socially inferior by the Nazi regime and endures torturous experiments at the hands of Doctor Gross. After the war, Gross becomes one of the most successful court psychiatrists. When Zawrel is tried for a minor offense, Gross tries to have him incarcerated for life.

Saturday, September 30, 6 pm: "Komm süßer Tod" (2000)

In this dark comedy, a former detective (Josef Hader) turned ambulance driver sets out to solve the brutal murder of a nurse, only to discover that it involves a war between rivaling ambulance companies.

Saturday, September 30, 8 pm “Die Wand” (2012)

A woman (Martina Gedeck) vacationing in the Austrian mountains finds herself cut off from humanity when an invisible, wall suddenly surrounds the countryside. We witness her transformation as she adapts to solitude and life in synch with nature. This film has been described as deeply unsettling, its cinematography as breathtaking.
